TIME CHANGES IN BETHEL ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

The Crescent Park and Ethel Bisbee School hours have been changed to a starting time of 9:00 a. m. and a closing time of 3:00 p. m.

This change was necessary because some of the bus students last year were at school one hour before school started and had to stay one hour after school closed waiting for a bus, according to Allen W. Messer, supervising principal.

The morning kindergarten will be from 9:00 a. m. to 11:00 a. m. and the afternoon kindergarten will be from 1:00 p. m. to 3:00 p. m.

Morning recess will be from 10:30 a. m. to 10:45 a. m. and lunch and noon recess, 12:00 to 1:00 p. m.

The students who walk or ride bikes to school need not be at school before 8:50 a. m. for the morning session or 12:50 p. m. for the afternoon session.

There will be no outside play time before school starts this year because of the time change.

NO POSTAL SERVICE ON LABOR DAY, SEPT. 1
The Bethel Post Office will be closed Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 1. There will be no receipt or dispatch of mail and no rural or star route deliveries.

COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

Work was started on the T.R.I.F. project for this year. We hope to complete the Chandler Hill Road to what used to be the four corners; if funds are available we will continue to the left and improve as much as possible. Completion of this road will be a great help to the highway department in the winter as the equipment will be able to move at a much more rapid pace without the danger of striking obstructions.

We who are now responsible for the maintenance of roads here in Bethel are very fortunate that there have been those in the past with foresight enough to establish policies of building permanent roads with good drainage and surfacing in most of the places that would cause trouble during the spring months, and removing snow. As the majority of the roads have been rebuilt and tarred we do not have to expend very much on places that at one time when they were repaired from wash-outs the same thing would have to be done again the next time it rained.

The Grover Hill Road is the only one not rebuilt that is of any great distance. It will take several years of Town Road Improvement Funds to that section, any others remaining are comparatively short distances.

TELSTAR CHERLEADERS AND FIELD HOCKEY PLAYERS TO MEET FRIDAY MORNING

RAILROAD CLUB TO SPONSOR "FOLIAGE" EXCURSION ON SUNDAY, SEPT. 28

On Sunday, Sept. 28, the 470 Railroad Club of Portland is sponsoring a "Tri State" passenger train excursion from Portland to Island Pond, Vt., and return. This is the ninth annual train trip sponsored by the non-profit rail-fan club. The all-day, 300 mile rail tour will pass through some of the finest mountain and lake scenery in Maine, New Hampshire, and Vermont at the height of the fall foliage season.

Departure from Portland is set for 8:00 a. m. EDT and return time will be about 7:00 p. m.

The train will stop for passengers in both directions, at Danville Junction and South Paris.

Here is a rare opportunity to enjoy a train ride in an area where passenger trains are all but extinct. The train will operate through picturesque portions of western Maine, thence through New Hampshire's White Mountains by way of Gorham, Berlin and Groveland, crossing the Connecticut River into Vermont with a final destination of Island Pond, in Vermont's Essex County.

Scenic photo stops and run-bys en route to Island Pond will allow the passengers to see and capture on film the magnificent scenery and colorful fall foliage display.

The train will be made up of Canadian National air-conditioned coaches with an open door baggage car equipped with safety rails, AC outlets for tape recorders will be available. Refreshments and light lunches will be served at a mid-train snack bar car. No other meal service will be available. The train will be pulled by two Grand Trunk diesel electric locomotives.

Tickets are available from Phillips H. Prince, The 470 Railroad Club, 73 Skylark Road, Portland, Maine 04103.

20 SECONDS WITH THE NAZARENE

Last night my little boy confessed to me
Some childish wrong;
And kneeling at my knee,
He prayed with tears—
"Dear God, make me a man
Like Daddy—wise and strong;
I know you can."
Then while he slept
I knelt beside his bed,
Confessed my sins,
And prayed with low-bowed head.
"O God, make me a child
Like my child here—
Pure, guileless,
Trusting Thee with faith sincere."
(Andrew Gillies)
Mark 10:15—Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein.

BACK-YARD FRONTIER SONGO POND

by Polly Bradley

It looks as if Congress may at last pass, before this session is over, a bill protecting endangered species, prohibiting interstate shipment and importation of animals and products of animals in danger of extinction. It's odd, but there are still people who wonder why we need a bill like this.

The other day I got into one of those weird arguments I have every so often with someone who can't see the purpose of keeping alive a sampling of wild creatures . . . some Eskimo curlews, some black footed ferrets, some California condors, some blue whales and some alligators.

"What is the purpose of an alligator?" thundered this indignant gentleman. "People have been known to be killed by alligators, and if it would save the life of one human being I'd kill every alligator in Florida."

He couldn't say the same about the Eskimo curlew, and he had to admit that the ivory-billed woodpecker might even be useful in killing insects, but the wolf and the mountain lion, the grizzly bear and the polar bear were definitely on his black list. "Only a few wildlife enthusiasts ever see an Attwater's prairie chicken, so who cares if they are all gone? Animals have been getting extinct ever since the dinosaur anyway."

I tried futilely to explain the value of the rich variety of the natural world . . . the idea that the destruction of these wild creatures may well be a danger signal for man as he wrecks his world and makes it unlivable for himself . . . the importance to me, even if I never saw a whooping crane, of knowing that mankind had made it possible for this fascinating creature to remain alive. I even suggested that other living things, per se, just because they exist, might have a right to a spot on the globe as lesser brothers of mankind . . . but this seemed utter foolishness to him. "Man is the measure of all things," he quoted, and that seemed to settle it for him. The rest of creation could vanish into oblivion, and this man would clearly never notice it until he choked on his last breath of polluted air.

I got out of there, fast, and went back to my kids, who frequently seem to have more sense than adults.

To kids it's perfectly obvious why there ought to be some polar bears and leopards and walrus and whales. Adults ask silly questions about the optimum number of walrus needed to enable a walrus herd to survive, and the purpose to humanity of the existence of walrus.

So don't ask me to explain why walrus should be allowed to survive. If you don't know the answer, get in a quiet and beautiful place, and ask the hidden six-year-old that still is hiding somewhere deep down in your soul. If you can't make contact with the child inside you, try asking your own child or grandchild. He'll tell you. He knows.

Kim and Mitchell Parker returned home to Connecticut Sunday, after spending the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Randal Stevens.

Thieves have been at work in some of the gardens, digging potatoes mostly, except in Robert Anderson's they stripped the whole garden destroying what they didn't take.

WEEK IN OXFORD CO.

About 50 members of 4-H Clubs in Southern Maine held an annual session of camping and studies at Freeman - Waterhouse Conservation Camp August 17-22. Staff members for the week included experts on subjects dealing with outdoor Maine.

The campers were elected by their clubs to attend the session. Throughout the rest of the summer, the Freeman-Waterhouse Campus serves as a workshop-classroom for four courses for teachers.

These courses, in subjects such as natural history of inland Maine and a field course in earth sciences, run for three weeks.

Gene Barker, 22, Bolsters Mills, and Diane G. Bonney, 16, West Paris, were killed instantly when the car driven by Barker flipped end over end on the narrow Elm Hill Road as he tried to elude pursuing State Trooper Ralph Sarti Saturday evening.

Clark Bonney, 17, brother to the girl, received minor injuries and was discharged from Stephens Memorial Hospital after an examination. Trooper Sarti said that he saw the car go along Beal St. in Norway at a high rate of speed and disappeared in pursuit. He flashed his blue light and sounded his siren but Barker increased his speed along Beal St., turning onto Alpine St.

The chase continued at a high speed for three and a half miles to Elm Hill in South Paris. Trooper Sarti said as the Barker car made the crest of the hill he saw "a big cloud of dust and it looked as if the speeding car went end over end."

Sarti said the car struck a gully

C. D. HIGHWAY SAFETY COM.

TO COMBINE PROGRAMS AT SAFETY CONFERENCE, SEPT. 19

The Office of Civil Defense and the Maine Highway Safety Committee will combine programs at the 42nd Maine State Safety Conference in Rockland, Friday, September 19th.

The program is called, "The Proper Handling of Traffic in an Emergency." This joint presentation will begin at 9:30 A. M. and will terminate at 11:30 A. M. It will involve a panel discussion with Lt. Emery McIntyre of the Maine State Police, Paul Bond of the Highway Commission and Steve Conant of the Office of Defense.

Richard Hamlin, Director of the

at the side of the road causing it to flip over on its top with all four wheels in the air. The crash sent the two bouncing out of the car onto the ground beneath the vehicle.

Four year old Lisa Lynn Card, daughter of Mrs. Donna Card of South Paris was killed instantly when she ran into the road in the path of an on-coming automobile on Route 26 in South Paris Monday night.

Neil Beatty, training manager at the Oxford Paper Co., Rumford, will be one of the speakers at this year's Maine State Safety Conference being held at the Samoset Hotel, Rockland, Sept. 18 and 19. Mr. Beatty will speak to the woodworking group on the Foreman's Place in Safety.

Workers at the A. C. Lawrence Co., South Paris, have been awarded a new three-year contract following negotiations between management and Local 128 of the Amalgamated Meatcutters and Butcher Workers of America, AFL-CIO. An increase of wages and benefits will amount to nearly 85 cents an hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keegan have moved to the apartment over Cluey's Pharmacy.

Maine Highway Safety Committee and Robert Watts, Public Affairs Officer of the Office of Civil Defense will act as moderators on the panel.

The purpose of the program is to give those people in attendance an informative description of the duties and obligations of the State agency they represent in dealing with the handling of the traffic in any emergency situation. For example, Lt. McIntyre will define and explain the authority and duties of the State Police at the scene of a traffic accident or at any disaster area where human life is in jeopardy. The role played by the Highway Commission and Office of Civil Defense under similar conditions will also be explained.

A second part of the program will involve an actual demonstration of the prompt and careful removal of injured persons from the scene of an automobile accident. Damaged automobiles will be used, various injuries to passengers will be simulated, and those in attendance will witness the use of the latest emergency first-aid equipment. This is a presentation of the Casualty Handling Course conducted by the Maine Highway Safety Committee in many sections of Maine during the summer of 1969. During this time 400 municipal policemen, firemen, ambulance and rescue personnel were given an extensive course in emergency first-aid and extrication techniques at the accident scene.

This program was approved by the U. S. Department of Transportation in Washington for matching federal funds. It is one of the first of its type to be held in any area of the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keegan have moved to the apartment over Cluey's Pharmacy.

MAINE RETIRED TEACHERS THANKED FOR PRAISE OF INCOME TAX PASSAGE

Governor Kenneth M. Curtis has thanked the Maine Retired Teachers Association for a resolution praising the passage of the State income tax and improvements made in the Maine Retirement System.

The resolution was passed at the annual summer conference at Orono of the Maine Retired Teachers Association. It stated that the enactment of an income tax "assured the educational progress of the State . . . gave hope that more adequate provisions in the future can be made for our needy senior citizens . . . and insured that improvements will not be financed exclusively by the property tax, which is especially burdensome to us who are trying to maintain our homes and combat inflation on fixed incomes."

The resolution expressed appreciation to "Governor Curtis and to those members of both parties in our Legislature who made possible this outstanding achievement."

Curtis in his letter to Stuart R. Haskell of Bangor, who sent him a copy of the resolution, stated his pleasure at the action of the Maine Retired Teachers Association. He also expressed his feeling that more progress could be made in meeting the needs of retired citizens and stated that he would "continue to urge passage of direct property and rental relief among other measures that will be of special benefit to needy senior citizens."

BLUE CROSS REMOVES DEDUCTIBLE CLAUSE FROM CERTAIN BENEFITS

In an effort to help alleviate the rising cost of hospital care, Associated Hospital Service of Maine has announced that effective September 1, the $7.50 deductible for certain diagnostic outpatient benefits will be eliminated.

Richard F. Nelson, president, said the action is being taken after several years of study of the outpatient program that was put into effect on a noncontractual basis in October, 1961 when it was first introduced with a $10 deductible. This deductible was reduced to $7.50 with favorable results in June, 1967.

Nelson said that an all-out effort is going to be made to educate the nearly 400,000 Maine Blue Cross and Blue Shield subscribers of available outpatient services with an eye towards reducing expensive in-hospital care wherever possible.

Services that will be included for Customary and Reasonable charges for benefits furnished by a participating physician include X-ray examinations (other than teeth), electrocardiograms, electroencephalograms, protein bound iodine tests, basal metabolism tests, radioactive iodine uptake test, pathology examinations of spinal fluid or of surgically removed tissue, and T-3 tests.

To be includable the patient must evidence some illness or injury and the services must be requested by a licensed physician or surgeon while the patient was enrolled under the Subscriber's Blue Cross or Blue Cross and Blue Shield contract with AHS of Maine. If the expense incurred was either fully or partially recoverable under any other applicable health benefit plan, personal or group, it is not eligible for indemnity herewith.

Blue Cross and Blue Shield subscribers should give the hospital or the physician the Blue Cross and Blue Shield number so that allowable charges can be submitted directly by them to AHS of Maine for payment.

Nelson concluded by saying that he hoped this would eliminate many of the in-hospital admissions for diagnostic services which are not medically indicated and could help considerably in holding the line on cost care.

Swan went to Perham's Gem Store on a field trip Wednesday afternoon. Peggy Casper and her mother, Grace, who are camping on North Pond, visited Mrs. Willard Farwell one day last week.

GREENWOOD CITY

It seems only yesterday that I watched and listened to the joyous overture to spring, the little Hyla. How lovely the roses were, almost fairy with the fading afterglow upon them. How spicy and fragrant!

Now we begin to close the month of August.

Wednesday evening as the cool blue-gray dusk began to creep, shrouding the far corners in a soft gloom, my two young nephews and I untied Boat and set out for an evening of fishing.

The forest clad hills and green valleys looked down upon us.

There was the high sighing sound of the wind's whistle as we faced into it pulling on the oars.

Baby clouds nestled snugly against Overset Mountain then hurried on over rising or falling with the strength of the wind. I watched this cloud factory conscious of their changes forever drifting over the summit and the cool night settled around us.

The lapping of the water came like music as fir and alder, elm or birch, watched us from the shoreline, dim now and the wind moaned eerily as if we were resented in these shadows.

Ducks flew against the moon, quacking, startled from their feeding ground. Then came the musical winnowing of their wings as they again settled among the weeds with a contented "chuck-a-duck".

At last we anchored where the waters chuckled and whispered on the rocks and Boat strained against the waves.

To our surprise the fun started immediately as we drew in fish after fish. We had entered a "school".

Excitement ran high here amid the dim sweep of the trees, shut in more securely now as night deepened.

In the distance the lilies sleeping, nestled in the moonbeams, low in the west and throwing waves of light in a path directly to us. But not for long, for about nine-thirty the moon paused to scan for a moment the dark edge of the timber above, noted
